Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Governor Gavin Newsom issued Executive Orders temporarily suspending and/or modifying certain requirements of the Brown Act regarding teleconferencing, public attendance, and public comments. Specifically, the Executive Orders allow school boards to hold public meetings telephonically or otherwise electronically, waiving the requirements for the physical presence of members in order to participate or establish a quorum. Meetings held electronically must allow members of the public to observe and address the meeting electronically. The temporary modifications to the Brown Act remain in place while public health officials have imposed social distancing measures and/or limitations on public events.
